

Once upon a time, in a faraway land, there lived a wandering traveller named Leo. He was a curious and adventurous soul, always seeking new places and experiences. Leo had a big, bushy beard and a wide-brimmed hat that he never took off, no matter where he went.

Leo had been travelling for as long as he could remember. He had seen the tallest mountains, the deepest oceans, and the most beautiful forests. His favourite thing to do was to meet new people and learn about their cultures and traditions. He had a special talent for making friends wherever he went.

One day, as Leo was wandering through a dense forest, he stumbled upon a group of tiny creatures. They were called the Leafy Sprites

